THE ARMY MEDICAL LIBRARY

Washington, D. C.

The CURRENT LIST OF MEDICAL LITERATURE is for sale by the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D. C., $3.00 per year ($3.75 foreign) 10 cents per single copy. All communications regarding subscriptions should be addressed to the Superintendent of Documents at the above address.

Published weekly by the ARMY MEDICAL LIBRARY 7th Street & Independence Ave., S. W., Washington 25, D. C., as an intraservice publication of the War Department. Lists all articles of medical interest contained in current journals received. Subject-indexes provided monthly. Exchange invited.

NOTICE

The monthly subject-indexes, which require two or three weeks to prepare, will continue to be issued on the last Friday of the month covered or as soon thereafter as possible, but henceforth will be numbered and paged separately, in order that publication of the basic issues, which are more readily prepared, may proceed without delay.

EPSTEIN, S., & PINKUS, H. Penicillin dermatitis based on tuberculin-type sensitivity; report of a case with remarks on experimental sensitization to penicillin. 186-95.

TRUITT, G. W. Reactions to penicillin. 196-8.

ABRAMSON, H. A. Combined penicillin and hydrogen peroxide aerosol therapy in lung infections. 199-206.

GRANA, A. Hydatid allergy. 207-12.

JAMIESON, H. C. Asthma due to bee scent. 213-5.

CROWE, W. R. Headaches. 216-9.

PARSONS, D. J. Sedimentation rate; a diagnostic aid in allergy. 220-2.

BROWN, E. A., WEISS, L. R., & BILDER, M. The house dust antigen; a critical review of the literature. 226-40.

Ann. Allergy, 1946, 4: (July-Aug.)

ROSEN, F. L. Bronchial asthma in the young male adult; a study of 100 hospitalized patients in an Army general hospital, with special reference to nasal symptoms and findings. 247-60.

GRANA, A. Influence of the liver in anaphylactic shock. 261-7.

KEIL, H., WASSERMAN, D., & DAWSON, C. R. Mango dermatitis and its relationship to poison ivy hypersensitivity. 268-81.

TODD, L. C. Some clinical observations on the use of benadryl for the symptomatic relief of allergic conditions. 282-7.

PINKUS, H. Benadryl in the treatment of erythema exudativum multiforme. 288-90.

ENGELHARDT, H. T., & BAIRD, V. C. Sensitivity to thiamine hydrochloride; a potential hazard in a common office procedure. 291.

GOLZ, H. H. Malaria and urticaria. 293.

SWINNY, B. Generalized chronic dermatitis due to tattoo. 295.

UNGER, L. Bronchial asthma. 299-334.

2. Anesthesia

Current Res. Anesth., 1946, 25: (July-Aug.)

JOHNSON, K., & GILBERT, C. R. A. Intravenous procaine for obstetrical anesthesia. 133-46.

RICHARDS, R. K., EVERETT, G. M., & PICKRELL, K. L. Pharmacological and clinical studies of tridione with special reference to its analgesic action. 147-51.

POE, M. F., & KARP, M. Seconal as a basal anesthetic agent in children. 152-7.

AXELROD, S. H. The use of curare and cyclopropane in one hundred surgical cases. 158-62.

MACON, E. B. Clinical anesthesia in children. 163-7.

LeCOMPTE, C. B. Some clinical experiences with (oenoethyl) 2-methylamino-heptane as a vasoconstrictor substance. 168-71.

BELINKOFF, S. Complications following anesthesia in a case of Lutembacher's syndrome. 172-5.

3. Cancerology

Cancer Res., 1946, 6: (Sept.)

WARREN, S. The pathologic effects of an instantaneous dose of radiation. 449-53.

DUNLAF, C. E., & WARREN, S. The carcinogenic activity of some new derivatives of aromatic hydrocarbons; compounds related to 1,2-benzanthracene. 454-65.

STRONG, L. C., & FIGGE, F. H. J. The effect of diets containing an abundance of milk, liver, riboflavin, and xanthine on methylcholanthrene carcinogenesis. 466-9.

GORER, P. A. The pathology of malignant histiocytoma (reticuloendothelioma) of the liver in mice. 470-82.

WANG, T. J. The betatron. 483.

QUASTLER, H. The use of the betatron in cancer therapy. 483.

LTATARJET, R. Some experimental results obtained during the war in the Laboratoire Pasteur de l'Institut de radium de Paris. 484.

SPENCER, R. R. Carcinogenesis and cell adaptations. 485.
